- On this form, legislative references are to the Income Tax Act, and regulatory references are to the Income Tax Act Regulations.
The assignment of the identification number is for identification purposes only. It does not imply that the shares are flow-through shares, that the agreement or the expenses meet all or any of the requirements of the Income Tax Act with respect to flow-through shares, or that we accept the allocation of the price between the shares and the warrants. The corporation may be subject to an audit.
