NOTE: In this publication, the text inserted between square brackets represents the regular print information.

What's new as of January 1, 2012

The major changes made to this publication since the last edition are outlined with a dotted line.

This publication reflects some income tax changes recently announced which, if enacted as proposed, would be effective January 1, 2012. At press time, some of these proposals had not yet become law. We recommend that you use the new payroll deductions tables in this publication for withholding starting with the first payroll in January 2012.

There is no change to the federal income tax rates for 2012.

The federal income tax thresholds have been indexed for 2012.

The federal Canada employment credit has been indexed to $1,095 for 2012.

The federal basic personal amount, the spouse or common-law partner amount and the amount for an eligible dependant have been indexed to $10,822 for 2012.

There are no changes to the Saskatchewan income tax rates for 2012.

The provincial income thresholds and personal amounts have been indexed for 2012.

SPECIAL NOTICE

T4032, Payroll Deductions Tables

As of January 2012, Publication T4032, PAYROLL DEDUCTIONS TABLES, will be available on CD for use on any computer with or without Internet access. You can order a copy at www.cra.gc.ca/orderforms or by calling 1-800-959-2221.

Paper copies remain available for employers who do not use a computer. To get a copy, call us at 1-800-959-2221.

The electronic versions of Publications T4008 and T4032 will continue to be available on our Web site at www.cra.gc.ca/payroll.

Payroll Deductions Online Calculator

For your 2012 payroll deductions, you can use our Payroll Deductions Online Calculator (PDOC). The online calculator makes it easier to calculate payroll deductions. PDOC is available at www.cra.gc.ca/pdoc.

Tables on the Web

You can download Publication T4032, PAYROLL DEDUCTIONS TABLES, from our Web site at www.cra.gc.ca/payroll and save it on your computer. You can also choose to print only the pages or information that you need.

Let us notify you

We provide an electronic service that can notify you immediately, free of charge, of any changes for payroll deductions.

To subscribe, visit our Web site at www.cra.gc.ca/lists and enter your business's email address for each mailing list that you want to join.

You have to deduct federal and provincial income tax

If you are using the income tax tables in this publication to determine your employees' and pensioners' total tax deductions, you have to look up the amounts in the federal tax table and the provincial tax table.

If not enough taxes have been deducted, employees and pensioners can ask to have more tax withheld at source to adjust any tax shortfall. To do so, employees and pensioners should complete federal Form TD1, 2012 PERSONAL TAX CREDITS RETURN, and return it to you.

New employees and pensioners or employees and pensioners who want to change their federal or provincial claim amounts have to complete federal Form TD1 for 2012 and a provincial Form TD1 for 2012.

Example

You are an employer in Saskatchewan. Sara, your employee, earns $685 a week in 2012. She has a federal claim code 1 and a provincial claim code 1.

To determine Sara's federal tax deductions, you look at the weekly federal tax deductions table and find the range for her weekly salary, which is 683-691. The federal tax deduction for $685 weekly under claim code 1 is $62.20.

To determine Sara's provincial tax deductions, you use the weekly provincial tax deductions table. In the Saskatchewan tax deductions table, the provincial tax deduction for $685 weekly under claim code 1 is $39.00.

Sara's total tax deduction is $101.20 ($$62.20 + \39.00). This amount of taxes will be included in your remittance to us.

Who should use this publication?

If you are an employer or a payer, you should use this publication. It contains tables for federal and provincial tax deductions, CPP contributions and EI premiums. This publication will help you determine the payroll deductions for your employees or pensioners.

For more information on deducting, remitting, and reporting payroll deductions, see the following employers' guides:

- T4001, Employers' Guide – Payroll Deductions and Remittances
- T4130, Employers' Guide – Taxable Benefits and Allowances
- RC4110, Employee or Self-employed?
- RC4120, Employers' Guide – Filing the T4 Slip and Summary
- RC4157, Deducting Income Tax on Pension and Other Income, and Filing the T4A Slip and Summary

These guides are available on our Web site at www.cra.gc.ca. You can also get the guides by completing the order form available on our Web site or by calling 1-800-959-2221.

Note

You may want to keep the 2011 edition of PAYROLL DEDUCTIONS TABLES until the end of 2012. That edition may help you to resolve any pensionable and insurable earnings review (PIER) deficiencies that we identify in processing your 2011 T4 return.

What if your pay period is not in this publication?

This publication contains the most common pay periods: weekly, biweekly (every two weeks), semi-monthly, and monthly. If you have unusual pay periods, such as daily (240 working days), or 10, 13, or 22 pay periods a year, see the PAYROLL DEDUCTIONS SUPPLEMENTARY TABLES (T4008) or the Payroll Deductions Online Calculator (PDOC) to determine tax deductions.

Which provincial or territorial tax table should you use?

Before you decide which tax table to use, you have to determine your employee's province or territory of employment. This depends on whether or not you require the employee to report for work at your place of business.

If the employee reports for work at your place of business, the province or territory of employment is considered to be the province or territory where your business is located.

To withhold payroll deductions, use the tax table for that province or territory of employment.

If you do not require the employee to report for work at your place of business, the province or territory of employment is the province or territory in which your business is located and from which you pay your employee's salary.

For more information and examples, see Chapter 1, "General Information" in Guide T4001, EMPLOYERS' GUIDE – PAYROLL DEDUCTIONS AND REMITTANCES.

Federal tax for 2012

Indexing for 2012

For 2012, the federal income thresholds, the personal amounts and the Canada employment credit have been increased based on changes in the consumer price index and other increases mentioned on page A-1.

The federal indexing factor for January 1, 2012 is 2.8%. The tax credits corresponding to the claim codes in the tables have been indexed accordingly. Employees will automatically receive the indexing increase, whether or not they file Form TD1, 2012

PERSONAL TAX CREDITS RETURN.

Tax rates and income thresholds

For 2012, the tax rates and income thresholds are as follows:

- 15% of taxable income less than or equal to $42,707;
- 22% of taxable income greater than $42,707 and less than or equal to $85,414;
- 26% of taxable income greater than $85,414 and less than or equal to $132,406; and
- 29% of taxable income greater than $132,406.

132,406.01	–	and over	0.29	10,378

Canada employment credit

The non-refundable Canada employment credit is built into the federal payroll deductions tables. The federal Canada employment amount is the lesser of the following amounts:

- $1,095; and

- the individual's employment income for the year.

The maximum annual non refundable tax credit is $164.25.

Pension income is not eligible for this credit. If you are paying pension income, use the Payroll Deductions Online Calculator to find the tax deduction.

Canada Pension Plan (CPP) and Employment Insurance (EI)

CPP Reform

For 2012, Canada Pension Plan (CPP) changes affect employees who are in the age bracket of 60 to 69 years of age, and are working and receiving CPP or Quebec Pension Plan payments.

For more information, see Chapter 2, "Canada Pension Plan contributions" in Guide, T4001 EMPLOYERS' GUIDE – PAYROLL DEDUCTIONS AND REMITTANCES, or go to www.cra.gc.ca/cppchanges-employers.

CPP contributions for 2012

Annual basic exemption	$ 3,500
Maximum contributory earnings	$ 46,600

Contribution rate (4.95%)	0.0495
Maximum employee contribution	$ 2,306.70
Maximum employer contribution	$ 2,306.70

You stop deducting CPP when the employee reaches the maximum annual contribution for the year.

Note

As an employer, you have to remit these deductions along with your share of CPP contributions.

For more information, see Chapter 2, "Canada Pension Plan contributions" in Guide T4001, EMPLOYER'S GUIDE – PAYROLL DEDUCTIONS AND REMITTANCES.

EI premiums for 2012

Maximum annual insurable earnings	$ 45,900
Premium rate (1.83%)	0.0183
Maximum annual employee premium	$ 839.97

You stop deducting EI when the employee reaches the maximum annual premium.

Note

As an employer, you have to remit these deductions along with your share of EI premiums.

For more information, see Chapter 3, "Employment Insurance premiums" in Guide T4001, EMPLOYER'S GUIDE – PAYROLL DEDUCTIONS AND REMITTANCES.

Personal tax credits returns (TD1 forms)

You may have to ask your employees or your pensioners to complete a federal and a provincial personal tax credits return using a federal Form TD1 and a provincial Form TD1.

For more information, see Chapter 5, "Deducting income tax" in Guide T4001, EMPLOYERS' GUIDE – PAYROLL DEDUCTIONS AND REMITTANCES.

Claim codes

The total personal amount an employee claims on a TD1 form will determine which claim code you use. For 2012, the claim amounts that correspond to the federal claim codes are not the same as the claim amounts that correspond to the provincial claim codes. See charts 3 and 4 on pages A-26 and A-27 [10].

Explanation of claim codes

Claim code 0

This code represents no claim amount allowed. If the federal claim code is "0" because the employee is a non-resident, the provincial claim code must also be "0."

Claim codes 1 to 10

The claim code amounts do not appear on either the federal or the provincial TD1 form.

You match the "Total claim amount" reported on your employee's or pensioner's TD1 forms with the appropriate claim codes. Then, you look up the tax for the employee's pay under the claim code in the federal and provincial tax tables for the pay period.

Indexing of claim codes amounts

The credits that apply to each federal and provincial claim code have been automatically increased in the tax tables by the indexing factor for the current year. If your employee did not complete the federal and provincial TD1 forms for 2012, you continue to deduct income tax using the same claim code that you used last year.

Form TD1X, Statement of Commission Income and Expenses for Payroll Tax Deductions

If your employees want you to adjust their tax deductions to allow for commission expenses, they have to complete Form TD1X, STATEMENT OF COMMISSION INCOME AND EXPENSES FOR PAYROLL TAX DEDUCTIONS.

You deduct tax from your employees' commission pay using the "Total claim amount" on their TD1 forms in the following situations:

- if your employees do not complete a Form TD1X; or
- if they tell you in writing that they want to cancel a previously completed Form TD1X.

Payroll Deductions Online Calculator

For your 2012 payroll deductions, we encourage you to take advantage of our electronic deductions services.

You can use our Payroll Deductions Online Calculator (PDOC) to calculate your payroll deductions. PDOC calculates payroll deductions for the most common pay periods, as well as the applicable province (except Quebec) or territory. The calculation is based on exact salary figures.

You can use PDOC by going to www.cra.gc.ca/pdoc.

How to use the tables in this publication

Use the tables in this publication to determine the CPP contributions, EI premiums, federal tax, and provincial tax that you will deduct from your employees' remuneration.

CPP tables (Section B)

The annual basic exemption is built into the CPP tables.

- Find the pages in Section B that correspond to your pay period.
- To find the range that includes your employee's gross pay (this includes any taxable benefits), look down the "Pay" column.

- In the shaded column next to the "Pay" column, you will find the CPP contribution that you should withhold from your employee's pay.

EI table (Section C)

- Find the page in Section C that corresponds to the "Insurable earnings" of your employee.
- To find the range that includes your employee's insurable earnings, look down the "Insurable earnings" column. When you use the table in this publication to determine the EI premiums, look up the insurable earnings for the period not the gross remuneration.
- In the shaded column next to the "Insurable earnings" column, you will find the EI premium that you should withhold from your employee's pay.

Tax deductions tables

To determine the total tax you deduct for the pay period, you must add the federal and provincial tax amounts.

Even if the period of employment for which you pay a salary is less than a full pay period, you must continue to use the tax deductions table that corresponds to your regular pay period.

Federal (Section D)

- Find the pages in Section D that correspond to your pay period.
- To find the range that corresponds to your employee's taxable income (this includes any taxable benefits), look down the "Pay" column.
- In the row under the applicable claim code, you will find the amount of federal tax that you should withhold from your employee's pay (for more information, see the section called "Claim codes" on page A-24 [9] and chart 3 on page A-26 [10]).

Provincial (Section E)

- Find the pages in Section E that correspond to your pay period.
- To find the range that includes your employee's taxable income (this includes any taxable benefits), look down the "Pay" column.

- In the row under the applicable claim code, you will find the amount of provincial tax that you should withhold from your employee's pay (for more information, see the section called "Claim codes" on page A-24 [9] and chart 4 on page A-27 [10]).

Some information about payroll deductions

Use the information in this publication with our employers' guides. Those guides will give you all the information you need for deducting, remitting, and reporting amounts.

Deducting tax from income not subject to CPP contributions or EI premiums

We have built the tax credits for CPP contributions and EI premiums into the federal and provincial tax deductions tables in this publication. However, certain types of income, such as pension income, are not subject to CPP contributions and EI premiums. As a result, you will have to adjust the amount of federal and provincial income tax you are deducting.

To determine the amount of tax to deduct from income not subject to CPP contributions or EI premiums, use the Payroll Deductions Online Calculator, available at www.cra.gc.ca/pdoc. On the "Salary calculation" and/or on the "Commission calculation" screen, go to Step 3 and select the "CPP exempt" and/or "EI exempt" option before clicking on the "Calculate" button.

Step-by-step calculation of tax deductions

You can use the following step-by-step calculations to calculate the tax deductions for any employee or pensioner who earns more than the maximum amounts included in the tax deductions tables.

The example shows you how to determine the amount of tax to deduct from all income.

However, if you design your own payroll program or spreadsheets to calculate tax deductions, do not use either of these calculations. Instead, see Publication T4127, PAYROLL DEDUCTIONS FORMULAS FOR COMPUTER PROGRAMS.

Example

Tax to deduct for all income

This example applies to a person who earns $1,100 weekly and contributes $80 to a registered retirement savings plan (RRSP).

This person claims the basic personal amount plus the full claim amount for a dependent spouse.
